

ACTION 2009

Charles DARWIN – 1809-82.

Founder of the Theory of Evolution by chance and natural selection.

This theory underlies the theory of Humanism.

Celebration of the 200th anniversary year of Darwin's birth was announced on ABC radio's "Science Show". Should anyone be surprised if it coincides with the beginning of the most disastrous time of human history, or that it is likely there is much worse to come?

The worst of human disasters is moral decay, we call ours "politically correct". It is organized around the Humanist religious philosophy, which claims authority from Darwin's theory of creation by "chance and natural selection" – a theory never accepted as a scientific theory because no scientific evidence can be found to support it.

The 'hard' 'sciences demand we bow to principles of mathematical truth so what's wrong with us? Has "Humanism's" brainwashing wiped out our ability for analytical thinking?

Let's be clear, this is not entirely Darwin's fault; it is largely humanity's own fault for we gave ourselves more pride in our greed and desire for easy living than is good for our human development.

But, of course, while there is life there is hope and we can still salvage all we need to gain entrance to the full glory of our human potential.

Yes! Humanist philosophy (from birth to death) has changed our attitude to life – indoctrination now directs our learning from our earliest age and is designed to undermine logic! Yes! We have now undermined our own logical common sense.

The whole of the Creation is constructed in a truth of order designed for desired results! All sound construction reflects the logical mind of its creator.

Artificial loving and living has blinded us to truth; the logic of our planning is corrupted! It is all so elementary! So what is this simple error in our lives? It is not that we love life too much; it is that we fail to love life enough to sacrifice selfish desire to truth. Logic is essential to planning, and bias is easily seen in family situations. So many children would be so much better served if parents saw with honest eyes.

True love is our inspiration, and truth of order is the law for all planned construction! Corruption of truth is by misled love – by pride or prejudice – it results in corrupt behaviour and design. As Jesus told us: 'I represent life; I represent truth!' Early last century most scientists had the logic of mind to see this! Today the humanist deceit has changed that balance, and not just for science – for all of us.

The Challenge of Complexity and the futility of chance:

Those in physical sciences should recognize their responsibilities in relation to social order because social order is the foundation for our intellectual development! The collapse of our social order endangers our humanity, as is now becoming increasingly clear.

All involved with mathematics should have supported those who long ago pointed out the faults in the theory of creation by chance and natural selection. All intellectuals should be exposing the deceit of a philosophy devoid of truth. Ego cannot change reality – intellect should not allow it to try!

Note: My explanation of Intelligent Design has no connection with others of similar claim; I include the logic of truth.

So let's look at an article in the Natural History magazine; the voice of The American Museum of Natural History. The April 2002 issue featured the special report, "Intelligent Design" as related to a legal battle within USA education arguing for and against; I need only comment on one point.

Michael J. Behe.

Quote: "Every living cell contains many ultra sophisticated molecular machines. How can we decide whether Darwinian natural selection can account for the amazing complexity ...?"

Darwin himself set the standard when he acknowledged, "If it could be demonstrated that any complex organ existed which could not possibly have been formed by numerous, successive, slight modifications, my theory would absolutely break down."

If that is a true quote (Note: not contested in the court.) we find Darwin is not an analytical thinker or he would not have used such a statement to back up his life's work. Obviously there is no creation that could not be "formed by numerous, successive, slight modifications", that is the nature of intelligent creation. So the logical question is: "Could chance assemble in that way?"

Behe used a mousetrap as example of intelligent design, claiming that until all its parts are assembled it is useless as a mousetrap. His counterpart argues that each part has some use in its own right. Behe had a valid point, but by failing to analyse logically is countered by argument equally faulty. Note: all combatants, court, and reporters ignored these errors.

Let the alphabet be our example: books are mainly composed of an alphabet every letter of which can be used to help express countless ideas. Constructions of alphabet and numbers, or of genes, are examples of foresight of creation! Designed for a purpose, each needs foresight of use before they are designed and again before becoming part of other creations.

Evolutionists claim every book could be written by chance. In endless mixing, a 'T' could find itself in front of 'H' and later an 'E' could form THE. In this way words are formed and by similar chance the word 'AFTER' might find itself in front of 'THE'.

In this way intelligent sentences could appear; each word is valid in its own right. This simplicity is called 'plausible'! Can it also be called possible?

What is convenient to ignore is that, in never-ending random shuffle, the t&h may be separated before the 'e' is added. Individual words alone have no survival advantage as the meaning of the sentence depends on the context of word use.

As every student of the subject should see:

A/ Every living creature has genes that may, or may not, be useful to maintain life-form efficiency in limited environmental situations.

B/ 'CHANCE' is used to randomly create genetic DAMAGE; and also to DELETE by random damage and natural selection.

If a damaged gene is of use to the life-form in an environment, those with this gene damaged will be disadvantaged and the less competitive eliminated; those with the gene undamaged survive and viability of the life-form in this environment is not effected.

On the other hand, if the gene damaged by chance is of no value to the life-form in its environment then the load of unused genes is reduced and, given time, that gene is eliminated from ALL members. Once eliminated, it is not by chance restored even if it comes to be needed at a later stage. Example: the human loss of Vitamin C.

The above process (called specialization) is well established. So whether talking of books, life-forms or mouse traps, "principles" of creation apply. Life is based on principles equally basic, as is the human genome or alphabet – bits of wood or steel count for little! For creation, order of a need must be foreseen and arranged by intellect as needed by truth!

We need deal with only one example!

Evolution theory is in all aspects disproved so why waste time to express variations of argument. But so long as we believe without question of logic, logic and evidence remains irrelevant.

Chance and natural selection combine to destroy order, not to create it! Neither chance nor natural selection can operate until there is a creation to provide options for chance and selection to operate on. These forces are very important but they have no intelligence to appraise either past experience or future need, nor ability to assemble as may be needed for future service.

When our culture opens its mind to truth it will see that there is no alternative! Life can only be created by intelligence and those honest must admit that when Jesus said his totality represented life and truth He understood this – again when He said that our God was God of those living (in spirit) not of those dead. Until we open our minds to truth so as to dismiss dead dogma we will not understand.

As with the challenge of Galileo all religions (include Humanism) have this problem: they present dead dogma. Living reality is spiritual and does not accommodate death! But pride forbids we admit error even as our dogma is exposed to defeat. All religions equally evade proclaimed truths and surrender humanity to humanist pretensions.

As also foretold, worldly wisdom is refuted – all ignore that life is based on the order of its truth.

Criminals now run our world. Religions, bound by dogma, are too proud to admit error; law cringes before commercial power and allows politicians to ignore democracy! Justice dies because the human mind has had its natural logic deformed.

Those who cannot doubt themselves have no faith in truth. We cannot believe in justice without accepting mercy: we will have to believe in spiritual life if we are to understand physical life.

We cannot have one side without the other. In failing to seek scientific truth to defeat the philosophy of deceit now ruling life on earth, religions deny the creative force for the third time – also foretold!

Albert Einstein:

"the significant problems we face cannot be solved at the same level of thinking we were at when we created them."

We are creating problems for ourselves because our intellectual capacities have been deformed: we by-passed a vital crossroads in human development and need to return to our natural abilities. Life is a force of progression; take the road at the sign pointing to "truth in logical intellectual reasoning".

Yes! Indoctrination to humanist philosophy has corrupted us! We now approach life including birth, with an artificial love; this is now giving, from birth onwards, false direction for our living! Yes we have undermined our own common sense!

Looking at latest research into DNA – the double helix – the built in controls that make life possible – life could not begin until this remarkable system had been designed! The order of its truth had to be designed before creation begun. The WORD (plan), as Scripture says, had to precede the creation.

Another (a famous inventor) is reported to have said of some difficulty:

"This problem is too difficult for professionals, we will have to wait for some gifted amateur to solve it".

The fact that so many technical and social problems have been solved by the self-educated is not because amateurs are more intelligent but because they, as individuals, learn because of their passion for understanding the truth of their subject. These do not accept the 'parrotting' of words as required by those taught learning as a memorising of given information.

Going downhill is easy: We will only advance when we are prepared to take responsibility for our own governing rather than elect those pushed by vested interests for private service.

Who Will Speak

*In this atomic tyranny
Of blood and brains, who frames his speech, --
To leave both friend and foe so free
That manhood is evoked in each?*

*Who, in this bewildered hour
Of barbed intellect and strife,
Can act out of the heart's full power,
Can forge and wield the fine edged knife
Of steeled and tempered consciousness,
To utter words so true and sharp
That they can cut the emptiness, --
Can pierce like tones plucked from a harp.
This stagnant moil of reeking air,
This farce of unreality,
That dupes the people to despair
And soddens their humanity?*

*Who can aim the heart's blade true
And cleave the tawdry veil asunder,
With all his human statue, who
Can speak with lightning and with thunder, --
Can walk erect, wide eyed with death,
And walking, foil the wraiths of terror
Can summon thoughts with living breath
To grapple with the hordes of error?*

*And when the faithful are accused,
The wise deserted and denied,
When the humble are abused,
The free beset from every side.
Who will speak in such an hour,
Who, in face of shame and death,
Will act out of the heart's full power,
Speak the truth with living breath.*
