

science to show them that they have no such godly rights.

That nations so easily fall, by simple progressive mind takeover, is even more surprising when we see how openly plans are revealed. For example: Collins Dictionary gives the following in its explanation of socialism:

“3. (in Marxist theory) a transitional stage after the proletarian revolution in the development of a society from capitalism to communism characterized by the distribution of income according to work rather than need.” Note: no human charity in this change agency. E.A.

Ideologies fight each other like sports teams, to achieve the same aim. Group leaders wallow in the promised ideal and ignore the evident fact of its futility and treachery; they see their plans as ‘on target’ but pride denies them ability to see themselves as ‘part’ of the target. They are set up to do the dirty work but those in power after the “killing fields” will be not call themselves either Capitalists or Communists.

Globalists party on as they watch the Hegelian Dialectic work this thesis and antithesis to achieve their dream.

As clearly explained in Leaflet 5. The Hegelian Dialectic principle is very extensively used in, and permeates, segments of culture ranging from entertainment to religion and business.

However we should never forget that the change agents will not admit that they are using Hegelian Dialectic principles in order to achieve brainwashing. Or that this is to confine the popular culture to slavery. Here is a little more from, the quote that forms the bulk of Leaflet 5.

“Other themes woven into anti-bourgeois propaganda in literature and drama (including television) were “an oversimplified Freudianism that regarded all suppression of human impulse as leading to frustration and psychic distortions ... the salutary consequences of self-indulgence ... [and a] total rejection of middle-class values, including time, self-discipline, and material achievement, in favor of a cult of personal violence....”

The result, concluded Quigley, was “a total reversal of middle-class values by presenting as interesting or admirable simple negation of these values by aimless, shiftless, and totally irresponsible people.” The political ascent of Arnold Schwarzenegger presents a splendid example of the reversal of values Quigley described.

“The California recall movement began as a revolt by that state’s long-suffering middle class against a state government arrogantly determined to tax them into penury, regulate them into oblivion, and use the power of government to undermine their values and institutions.

California’s rebellious middle class was skillfully manipulated into supporting, as its champion, a novice politician — a product of Hollywood’s depravity-exalting culture, and who unabashedly supports abortion, homosexuality, affirmative action, and the essential tenets of the socialist welfare state. This was possible, in large measure, because California’s middle-class electorate, having passed through the dialectic process described by Gotcher, considered it more important to be part of the winning side than to defend sound principles.

End Quote.

Closing comment.

W. M. Grigg offers a very good view of a foundation principle of fiat-socialism. The principle of no right, no wrong, is promoted incessantly, but slyly, (both by suggestion and open advocacy) through all media. The consequences of this are now tearing the social fabric of world cultures apart to create crime, corruption, accidents, drugs addiction, contempt for parents, contempt for rights of others, and terrorism; it is designed to induce public confusion and slavery by indoctrination to false beliefs.

This plan of misinformation, indoctrination and deception is designed to give total power to a global master-race. For better understanding of basic techniques used see Chapter 3 of “Globalism Brainwash”.

All who have, or intend having, children, or have any responsible concern for preserving human intellectual freedoms, should not introduce children to T.V. under the age of seven years.

Its best use is as entertainment in aged care homes although mature adults with well established mental habits may find it has entertaining uses. However to these most TV is too childish to be interesting.

TV trains the mind to behave as if information is a passing entertainment to be savored on the instant for excitement and not taken seriously, it leaves no time for thought, personal involvement or consideration of implications. It simply tells YOU what to think.

Similarity between computer and TV screen is obvious, the mind can accept it as equal. So reading information from a computer screen encourages the mind to see it, and the TV screen, as the same, especially as TV bonding comes first. So those looking for information to help them understand life and living will be well advised to convert to hard copy.

TheMindWeb continually encourages readers to do that. These leaflets are part of that effort. TV is a corrupting entertainment and a lying informant.

Discussion Leaflet 6.

Will Hegelian Dialectic turn Capitalism, through socialism, into Communism?

A reader questions the word ‘socialism’ in our “Last Editorial” (May) claiming, correctly, that it means, in short: “community owned production for community benefit”, what’s wrong with that? We soon agree that Communist takeover has left surviving working classes ‘equal’ only as slaves to the ruling elitists.

We agreed the socialist dream was never intended to be more than a dream. It needed capitalist support until capitalism itself was able to attain (through indoctrination) its own makeover of working and middle class minds. Socialism as exposed in “Shame of Nations”, now needs fuller explanation; here is the result.

SOCIALISM

When “social” is deformed by addition of an ‘ism’ or an ‘ist’ it becomes a religion: it promotes egotistical, faith-based ideals to replace respect for true social order.

Socialists promote an idealized social belief and give religious zeal to achieving that ideal; there is an assumed godly ability to mould life in disregard of nature, practical reality and self-evident truth. Enforced authority replaces truth. And communism is “a commune of socialists”.

“Humanism” promotes a substitute for human and a base for Communist, capitalist or Fascist religious totalitarianism as shown in “Shame of Nations”, these concoctions are all parts of a > secretly promoted ‘power-lusting’ plan for control of culture. Capitalism is just a more advanced form of socialism. It has the same ideals and god-like aim to create a slave class in elite service: A fiat economy creates an impression of prosperity until enslavement is complete. It is also part of the plan to gain elitist control of earth with a ‘beliefs controlled’ slave class in service.

That dream is of ancient origin, it became a culture during early stages of human development when understanding of human nature made this desire more excusable and less concrete. Note this quote from “Indian Philosophy” by Radhakrishnan:

“One of the leading principles of the mystics was the sacredness and secrecy of self knowledge and the true knowledge of the gods. This wisdom was, they thought, unfit for, perhaps even dangerous to, the ordinary human mind; or in any case, liable to perversion and misuse, and loss of virtue if revealed to the vulgar and unpurified spirits. Hence they favored the existence of an outer worship, effective but imperfect, for the profane.”

Socialism is more a change agent to motivate the masses during that time when government by plutocracy (as a visible alternative to a sham democracy or republic) is not acceptable to the majority.

As we see, the ideal of total elitist control, with government by indoctrinated beliefs for the slave class, is, quite precisely, the idea being set up by capitalist/communist-elitists today. The difference today is that they have modern knowledge to help achieve their aims and
